Sound System Donated to Senior Center

Liz Young (right) and Andrea Comstock (middle) of the Florida Keys Council of the Arts test the new sound system for the Monroe County Senior Center in Plantation Key generously donated by Dave Feder (left) of Islamorada Community Entertainment (ICE). As a musician participating with the Arts Council's Senior Lunchtime Concert Series, Dave took it upon himself to purchase and donate a good portable system that would serve the center's needs for any public speaking, educational or entertainment events scheduled there. The Arts Council is pleased to partner with artists and arts organizations such as Dave and ICE who are dedicated to bringing the arts to all members of the community. According to Dave, "It is one of those very rewarding opportunities that comes from being involved with ICE. But ultimately it is the community at large, who in supporting our efforts, should really be thanked."

Upper Keys Rotary Welcomes Derfler

President Don Horton (middle) and President Elect George Hertel (right) introduced Frank Derfler as the Upper Keys Rotary Club's latest addition.

Frank Derfler and his wife moved to Islamorada 10 years ago. Derfler was an Airforce Officer for twenty years and an editor with PC-Magazine for another 20 years. He wrote over a dozen books, some related to his field of experience and just recently started to work on a novel. He is still active in computer related communications and offers e-seminars. "Life is a Work in Progress" is prominently displayed on his calling card.

The Upper Keys Rotary Club gives 100% of the proceeds earned to Upper Keys local scholarships and people in need.
