is that we only promote our advertisers. That is only fair because they are the ones who sponsor this publication.

We are a very short staff but also a very close staff, close to broke, close to insanity and close to killing each other*. If you would like information on advertising please call us. We will be happy to make an appointment or send you information. Keep in mind that along with your ad we are happy to promote your bartenders, staff and customers with photographs and articles whenever we can. We also welcome press releases and photographs from all our advertisers.

If for any reason at any time we have offended you as a reader we do not apologize. If you have an emotional reaction to what we have written then we have done our job. Nobody wants to read boring verbage.

EGO

Live at Gilbert's Resort

To a true music lover a live performance is the ultimate experience and EGO is a premier live band.

musical experience in his little pinky toe than most musicians around. One of the member, Paul, is originally from Jacksonville, Florida. He is handsome, intelligent and group of friends have been transformed into EGO groupies.

Whether you are the type that likes to sit, watch and savor the sounds or the type of person to put your party dress on and dance 'til you drop, absolutely no one will ever walk away disappointed from this band. These guys are seasoned pros. They know how to engage the audience and how to hold their attention.

Lead singer and songwriter Zaida Alfaro is talented, charismatic, energetic, long-legged, lean and drop-dead gorgeous. She can be found center stage belting out a tune or dancing and singing in the crowd. Zaida, born and raised in Miami, is the true audiophiles ear and eye candy.

Rob plays bass guitar, sings vocals and has more founding band members, Rob is originally from Calgary, Canada but has called South Florida his home for over 10 years.

Another talented band plays the electric guitar and sings vocals too. He's friendly, personable and has an amazingly witty sense of humor. And I can say, Paul is one of the main reason my Drummer and graphic artist extraordinaire, Mike is also a founding member of the band. He is the one responsible for the eye-catching posters that promote the band. A native South Floridian, Mike is also described as a human metronome on speed.

Carlos is the latest addition to the band. Originally from South Carolina, Carlos has played guitar since his early teens and also sings vocals with EGO. He is a perfect addition to this high-energy rock band that plays hit from the 60s, 70s, 80s, 90s and today.

Don't miss them at Gilbert's Tiki Bar. See ad on facing page for their schedule or call 305-451-1133.

Letter to the Editor: Buyer Beware

Dear Editor,

We realize that there is nothing you can do to assist in our current "Keys Nightmare" but thought possibly we could share our story for future Keys residents to be aware.

We purchased a place in Key Largo back in February 2010. On the property was an older mobile home and the real reason we purchased was due to the very large and nice screened in tiki hut, wooden decks, wooden walkways, dock, etc.

We were having the tiki hut roof rethatched when Monroe County Code Dept. 'tagged' us and advised us that basically everything on the property was built illegally, no permits had ever been pulled AND weren't even eligible for permits!

Of course we have learned that 'ignorance of the law' is no excuse, but we ASSUMED when we purchased the property using a realtor, title company, and home inspection that everything that we 'bought' on the property was legal and that we would be able to keep and enjoy these amenities that we paid handsomely for.

We are now being told that we have to tear down the large, screened in tiki hut, which will cost us hundreds if not thousand(s) in permits and demolition costs. Not to mention the costs to rebuild something that meets 'code'. Plus we were left with hundreds, of dollars in palms for roof rethatch that have just sat and dried up on our property with the additional costs involved to have them removed from our property at some time in the future.

The tiki hut has been on Monroe County property appraisal as property improvements and has been assessed taxes since 1989. We were advised by Monroe County Code Department that if we could prove it had been there since 1986, it could be 'grandfathered in'. We spent hours and days trying to find historic aerial photos of Key Largo and finally did find one from 1987, unfortunately it did not show the tiki hut so we assume it was actually built in 1989 to our additional dismay.

We are devastated, as we used most all of our retirement savings and purchased the property for cash, leaving little money for any demolition, permits, or new construction on the property.

Just a "Buyer Beware" that if purchasing any property in the Keys do your own research to make sure what you are buying is legal in Monroe County or you could meet the same fate.

Signed,
Devastated in Key Largo

Fifth Annual Crossroads Adventure Camp

Take Stock In Children and the Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches recently participated in the fifth annual Crossroads Adventure Camp experience.

From December 12 through December 17 all newly signed seventh and eighth grade Take Stock In Children scholars from Monroe County Schools traveled to the Sheriff's Youth Camp in Inglis, Florida. Mrs. Katrina Wiatt, Assistant Project Coordinator for Take Stock In Children accompanied the group on their week-long journey.

The Crossroads Adventure Camp is completely inclusive and offered at no charge to our students. The camp provides transportation, lodging, all meals, and seminars. Activities are designed to give students the encouragement needed to decide which paths to follow in life and to prepare for their post-secondary education. The curriculum offers a blueprint for planning the future.

Several sessions focus on choices to help students become more prepared to make important life decisions concerning friendships, money, and leadership. In addition to the camp and all of these activities, students also enjoyed guided tours to Santa Fe College and the University of Florida in Gainesville.

The Monroe County Education Foundation, the Monroe County Sheriff's Office and many supporters of Take Stock sponsor this trip because they believe in preparing our youth for success and the future.

A Voice from the Village

Neighbor to Neighbor

Dear Islamorada Friends and Neighbors,

We need major cuts in the next budget to achieve financial responsibility. What has caused us so much wealth reduction? The continued failed decisions and bad politics by Village department heads orchestrated by the unethical Village attorneys. They have cost us so much and hit the business community hard. These actions will continue to erode our resources and tax dollars. The select treatment in the Village of letting some businesses to expand without the permits and requirements, while most other businesses are not allowed to grow has to be dealt with.

While the businesses of the Rain Barrel need our support, Forester and other select folks cannot be allowed to grow their interests without permits, without the valid site plan, storm water, fire code, ADA, parking, and conditional use approvals that the rest of us have to go through. Forester does not have to comply with requirements that Wagner, Albertson, and Koconic demand of others. All the complaints of Forester's and others illegal actions are being ignored.

The Village employees that go along with the unethical attorneys actions including Albertson's, Wagner's, and Koconi's have cost other Village employees the beginning of overall wage and benefit corrections. Our wealth is being transferred into legal bills, yet these high earning Village employee have felt little pain, and the attorneys get rich.

Employees' salaries will decline until the Village employees fix their own house.

The honest employees need to stand up and say no to the Village attorneys, the dishonest Village employees need to be replaced. I ask you why doesn't the Village Council speak up publicly, or are they part of the problem?

Happy New Year and wishing long lasting reforms in our wonderful Village.

Best regards,
Paul Bates

BAD

Bartenders of the Month

The Coconut Telegraph has recognized many outstanding bartenders through the years but we haven't said anything about the bad ones... till now. Here's to those who spoil our drinks with sour disposition. Cheers!

Bad Habits of Bad Bartenders:

- They ride to work on their high horse and expect respect.
- Show up drunk or stoned and wander around accomplishing nothing.
- Make twice the tips of the "real" bartenders who work twice as hard because they short change customers and hide stolen money in pant pockets.
- They know 100 ways to sneak drinks at work.
- Even though most of their customers fought in wars for their country bad bartenders despise them because they don't worship them as the queen or king of the bar.
- Think their boss is a total idiot.
- Know they could never get a "real" job or work at a real bar.
- Spend more time gossiping with their friends and coworkers than serving customers.
- Refuse to serve people they don't like.
- Work with a cigarette dangling dangerously over the customers food and drinks.
- The only following they have is their own dog.

Witty Statements Frustrated Customers Can Give:

- If stupidity hurt you'd go through life on a morphine drip.
- Why don't you slip into something more comfortable... like a coma?
- Your fear of success is nothing to worry about.
- You are as useless as a screen door on a submarine.
- Are your parents siblings?
- Are you always an idiot, or just when I'm around?
- If brains were dynamite you couldn't even blow your nose.
- Your red shirt goes well with your eyes.
- Good thing for you there is an unlimited source of straws here.
- Anyone who told you to be yourself gave you the worse advice.
- You do the work of three men: Larry, Curly and Moe.
- Did you forget your Speed Stick today?
- They say opposites attract. I hope you meet someone honest, intelligent and good-looking.
- I never forget a face but you're an exception.
- I see why you haven't been recognized as Coconut Telegraph Bartender of the Month.

Attention Seekers We All Know at Least One

The emotionally immature person has low levels of self-esteem and self-confidence and consequently feels insecure; to counter these feelings of insecurity they will spend a large proportion of their lives creating situations in which they become the center of attention. It may be that the need for attention is inversely proportional to emotional maturity, therefore anyone indulging in attention-seeking behaviors is telling you how emotionally immature they are.

Attention-seeking behavior is surprisingly common. Being the center of attention alleviates feelings of insecurity and inadequacy but the relief is temporary, as the underlying problem remains unaddressed: low self-confidence and low self-esteem, and consequent low levels of self-worth and self-love.

The sufferer: This might include feigning or exaggerating illness, playing on an injury, or perhaps causing or inviting injury. The attention-seeker excels in manipulating people through their emotions, especially that of guilt. It's very difficult not to feel sorry for someone who relates a plausible tale of suffering in a sob story or "poor me" drama.

The rescuer: She's the one who will dash in and "rescue" people whenever the moment is opportune - to her, that is. She then gains gratification from basking in the glory of her humanitarian actions. She will prey on any person suffering misfortune, infirmity, illness, injury, or anyone who has a vulnerability. The act of rescue and thus the opportunities for gaining attention can be enhanced if others are excluded from the act of rescue; this helps create a dependency relationship between the rescuer and rescued which can be exploited for further acts of rescue (and attention) later.

The organizer: She may present herself as the one in charge; the one organizing everything, the one who is reliable and dependable, the one people can always turn to. However, the objective is not to assist people (this is only a means to an end) but to always be the center of attention.

The manipulator: She may exploit family relationships, manipulating others with guilt and distorting perceptions; although she may not harm people physically, she causes everyone to suffer from an emotional injury. A common attention-seeking ploy is to claim she is being persecuted, victimized, excluded, isolated or ignored.

The drama queen: Every incident or opportunity, no matter how insignificant, is exploited, exaggerated and if necessary distorted to become an event of dramatic proportions. Everything is elevated to crisis proportions.

The busy bee: This individual is the busiest person in the world if her constant retelling of her life is to be believed. Everyday events which are regarded as normal by normal people take on epic proportions as everyone is invited to simultaneously admire and commiserate with this oh-so-busy person who never has a moment to herself, never has time to sit down, etc. She's never too busy, though, to tell you how busy she is.

The feigner: When called to account and outwitted, the person instinctively uses the denial - counterattack - feigning victimhood strategy to manipulate everyone present, especially bystanders and those in authority. The most effective method of feigning victimhood is to burst into tears, for most people's instinct is to feel sorry for them, to put their arm round them or offer them a tissue.

The false confessor: this person confesses to crimes they haven't committed in order to gain attention from the police and the media. In some cases people have confessed to being serial killers, even though they cannot provide any substantive evidence of their crimes. Often they will confess to crimes, which have just been reported in the media. Some individuals are known to the police as serial confessors. The false confessor is different from a person who makes a false confession and admits to a crime of which they are accused because of emotional pressure and inappropriate interrogation tactics.

The abused: a person claims they are the victim of abuse, sexual abuse, rape, etc. as a way of gaining attention for themselves. Crimes like abuse and rape are difficult to prove at the best of times and their incidence is so common that it is easy to make a plausible claim as a way of gaining attention.

The victim: she may intentionally create acts of harassment against herself, for example; send herself hate mail or damage her own possessions in an attempt to incriminate a fellow employee, a family member, neighbor, etc. Scheming, cunning, devious, deceptive and manipulative, she will identify her "harasser" and produce circumstantial evidence in support of her

The Journey of Entering into Commitment

Entering into a committed relationship is in fact a spiritual journey that we undertake with another person.

Loving and committing to another person is a spiritual process whether it involves a wedding or any other type of commitment ceremony. Often when we enter into a relationship, we allow our emotions to lead us forward without thinking more deeply about what true commitment involves. If we can understand that sharing our lives with another person is not just based on love but also on the hard work of being able to compromise and enter into a dialogue with them, then we are much more likely to find the key to having a successful relationship with our partners. So many people have not experienced a loving relationship between their own parents and therefore have no role model of what love should feel like or look like.

Many of us have been exposed to the idea that love should be romantic and sweep us off our feet. While this is a natural part of any relationship, the true test of our love comes from our willingness to explore this world with another person; to not only share in the delights that we encounter but also to negotiate the bumps in the road together. Generally this often takes the form of a mutual exchange of ideas, but because any relationship is based on the needs and experiences of two people, we might also face a certain amount of misunderstanding. Learning to be open and receptive to our partners and to treat their wants and ideas with respect can help us navigate even the most difficult situations. One way to do this is to take a deep breath, holding our partner in a space of love, and allow ourselves to listen fully with our hearts to what they have to say. Should this become difficult to do, we can also turn toward people whose relationships we admire for advice or guidance. Knowing that there are resources out there to help us and being up for exploring them with our partner will only serve to deepen and strengthen our relationship.

Entering into a committed relationship is in fact a spiritual journey that we undertake with another person. By being able to love and care for someone else with an open heart, we will find that we can reach a greater level of personal transformation, evolving along our path and learning powerful lessons about ourselves that we might not otherwise be able to do on our own.

News from United Way of the Florida Keys

It has been an exciting, rebuilding year at United Way of the Florida Keys, and I want to thank you for your support. With the support of donors and volunteers throughout the Keys, we have provided funding through our yearly allocation of funds for the year 2010-2011 to the following 15 non-profit organizations providing critical services to Keys residents in need:

American Red Cross of Greater Miami and The Keys
Big Pine Athletic Association
Boys and Girls Club of the Keys
Boy Scouts of America
Burton Memorial United Methodist Church
Domestic Abuse Shelter
Easter Seals Florida/Keys Region
Florida Keys Healthy Start Coalition
Florida Keys Outreach Coalition
Girl Scout Council of Tropical Florida
Helpline, Inc.
Keys Center Academy
Marathon Recreation Center
Monroe Association for ReMARCable Citizens (MARC)
Wesley House Family Services

These local organizations, which apply for our support annually, are vetted carefully by us, to ensure among other things low administrative overhead, and no duplication of services. All funds raised in the Keys stay in the Keys, and we have been providing this financial support to non-profit organizations in our community since 1981, so we are coming up on 30 years of doing this work, although in recent years, admittedly a bit too quietly. With the leadership of a Keys-wide all volunteer board, we have made some changes at our United Way to increase the community impact of our work, and be a more powerful presence throughout the entire Keys, supporting our community.

To highlight one example, we have participated in a first-ever initiative working with a new Monroe County "Food Policy Council" which is working with food pantries throughout the Keys and various local stakeholders including Feeding South Florida to bring down the cost per pound of food, and set up common distribution networks. (This latter point is critical because our lack of transportation infrastructure in the Keys presents real barriers to access to help to those in our community who need it most.)

This council is also starting to get the word out to local restaurants and grocery stores that starting this past January 2010, the State of Florida has enacted legislation to drastically reduce the liability of restaurants that give food away to food pantries, thus removing an obstacle to local sourcing food for these critical volunteer operations directly assisting those in dire need, at a time when reliance on food pantries by many for the first time has soared.

We are in the final weeks of our United Way workplace giving campaign, throughout

Domestic violence doesn't stop for the holidays.

The holidays should be a time for family and friends to share the joy and hope of the season. For those experiencing abuse, however, December can also be a particularly stressful time. Domestic violence doesn't stop for the holidays and the added pressures of holiday expectations can worsen an already unhealthy situation.

This year, help those living with abuse to know that they're never alone, especially during the holidays.

The Domestic Abuse Shelter (DAS) is a non-profit organization, providing comprehensive services for individuals and families experiencing domestic and sexual abuse in the Florida Keys. Our mission is to reduce the incidence and minimize the impact of domestic and sexual abuse in Monroe County by directing victims and abusers to appropriate, effective programs and services.

The Domestic Abuse Shelter, Inc. is the only certified emergency shelter in Monroe County that provides refuge for victims of domestic and sexual violence and their children. Residents may stay at the shelter for up to six weeks. The shelter is a safe and secure environment that empowers residents through its services to form the beginning of independent lifestyles. Residents obtain crisis intervention, supportive counseling, children's services, food, clothing, support group counseling and advocacy. All agency services are available to shelter residents. For more information, call (305) 743-4440. The National Domestic Abuse Hotline is 1-800-799-SAFE (7233).

Below is a list of items needed by the Domestic Abuse Shelter. You can drop off your gifts at 100670 Overseas Highway #5, Key Largo, FL. Monetary donations are also accepted. You can mail a check to Domestic Abuse Shelter, Inc., PO Box 522696, Marathon Shores, FL 33052 claim. She will revel in the attention she gains and use her glib charm to plausibly dismiss any suggestion that she herself may be responsible. However, a background check may reveal that this is not the first time she has had this happen to her. I know one person who claimed that someone mailed her some feline excrement. She claimed that the Post Office was doing a search on the little box of dried up dung. One of the Coconut Telegraph's secret investigators made a trip to the Post Office and you guessed it, the story was false. She made the whole thing up just to put attention on herself.

For more information call 305-451-5666, or go to www.domesticabuseshelter.org.

the Keys, and available to do a short presentation at your workplace since payroll deduction is still the primary method of support for our organization. We are making an effort to reach out to individuals not associated with a local workplace as well and are looking for help in reaching out to those neighbors.

I took over as President of United Way of the Florida Keys this past January as a paid staff of one and have seen personally how our work affects those in need. We are working hard to run our local United Way like a business, and to that end we are moving toward increasingly funding programs that support our work in two areas: 1) access to quality, nutritious food and 2) early childhood development/after care support. Our application is now available on our website, and local 501c3 non-profits applying for our support will be measuring the results of specific programs, and reporting back twice a year on how successful they have been at achieving their stated goals.

Giving is a very personal decision. I believe we have a powerful business case for your support, perhaps more than any time in recent history. If you have ever been involved with United Way either here in the Keys or in another community, or you are looking for a way to help those in need in our community but don't know where to start, we invite you to get involved in our local efforts as we do what United Way does--work with local non-profits, helping them work together to move the needle on a focused set of community needs.

To learn about other new initiatives underway in our community that United Way is involved in or to give to United Way of the Florida Keys online visit our website: www.keysunitedway.org , or email me at president@keysunitedway.org. This has been a critical year for our local United Way and we thank you for your support. Give. Advocate. Volunteer. Live United.

Dear Anny Bannanny

New Cab Company Tries to Take Me for the Wrong Ride

Dear Anny Bannanny,
Last month I was invited to a holiday party near Harry Harris Park in Tavernier. I knew it was going to be a good time and I wanted to relax and have a few drinks without having to drive so I called a cab. There is a new taxi company that advertises $5 for each stop so I called them. I should have known a deal like that was too good to be true!
When I called, a man answered and in his barely understandable broken English he explained that the $5 deal was only good for rides to local bars, not to residences. And he didn't even know where Harry Harris Park was! The whole thing made me extremely uncomfortable so I hung up and called Mom's Taxi 305-852-6000. They arrived promptly and the charge from Key Largo to Harry Harris Park was only $14. I thought your readers would like to know so that they don't get jerked around like I did.

Sincerely,
Jerked Around Sue

Dear Jerked Around Sue, Mom's Taxi has been around for 20 years and is no fly-by-night operator - here today and gone tomorrow. Mom's has stood the test of time and is fully insured. All their drivers are experienced and know where they are going. The other guys may charge $5 bucks for a short jaunt, but if that is $5 per person then it is not such a good deal, now is it? Makes you wonder too if they can't converse in English very well will they accept pesos or rupees too? It sounds like the "run around" to me. If there is a car accident and they have no insurance and you get hurt, who are you going to sue, Sue? Thanks for sharing your story. I guess the bottom line is if it sounds too good to be true it probably is.

Yours truly,
Anny Bannany
