

28 Riders in First Annual Dia de los Muertos 5-Mile Bike Ride

Angelina Bello, daughter of Jacque and Leo Bello, and Key Largo CPA Audra Hill display their Day of the Dead face paint.

Twenty-eight riders completed the first annual Dia de los Muertos 5 mile bike ride held on November 1, sponsored by Señor Frijoles and All Keys Cycles.

"It was a great ride, and so much fun," said Audra Hill, participant. "Cars were honking, and everyone had a great time," Hill said.

Riders left from Senor Frijoles restaurant and traveled south along the bike path, stopping for refreshments along the way and then returning to Señor Frijoles. "I loved the spicy watermelon," said Holly Raschein, who rode in the event along with her husband, Ryan, and son, Drake. The riders then returned for a traditional Mexican buffet after the ride of turkey mole, pozole, home-made tortillas, and candied pumpkin.

The Day of the Dead festival has spread throughout the world. In Brazil it is called Dia de Finados. In Spain "ofrendas" are made this day. In the Philippines the holiday is called Todos los Santos (All Saints Day). In Portugal, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, France, and Ireland people bring flowers to the graves of the dead. In other countries, candles are lighted in honor of the deceased.

The Florida Keys Foster Adoption Parents Association extends its gratitude to the Conch Scramble Board for their $13,750 contribution to help children and families in need within our community. The 2012 Conch Scramble Golf Event, held this past September, was a lot of fun and a successful way to raise funds and awareness for the cause. Pictured above are members of the 2012 Conch Scramble Board and representatives from the Florida Keys Foster Adoptive Parents Association.

Artist of the Month: Deena Hoagland

Local author and Director of Island Dolphin Care, Deena Hoagland, has published her first book, "The Breaths That Count". Hoagland, LCSW, is director and founder of Island Dolphin Care, a not-for-profit organization in Key Largo, Florida. "Breaths That Count" shares her journey as the mother of a critically ill child who finds that the friendship of dolphins provides her with the answers to help her son, while shaping her destiny to offer hope to countless others. This is a must-read story of tragedy, adventure, creativity and healing.

Deena's story is inspiring, empowering and informative as she navigates through the world of complex medical treatments and brings animal-assisted therapy to new heights. The achievements of Island Dolphin Care have been the subject of much media attention including television segments on the "Today Show," "Prime Time Live," "Animal Planet," and "Turning Point," as well as having been featured in "Good Housekeeping," "Southern Living," and "Exceptional Parent" magazines.

To read Deena's amazing story you can pick up a copy of her book at Shear Paradise, either of Shell World's two locations or on Amazon.com. It's a great holiday gift idea!

(L to R) Buff Midling, Joe Hoagland, Eva Earley, Deena Hoagland, Lisa Wetzel. Deena had a book signing at Shear Paradise Salon in November.
