25 Ways to Order a Pizza

1. Stutter the letter "p".
2. Terminate the call with "Remember, we never had this conversation."
3. Ask what the order taker is wearing.
4. Tell the order taker you're depressed. Get him/her to cheer you up.
5. Act like you know the order taker from somewhere. Say "Bed-wetters' Camp, right?"
6. Try to rent a pizza.
7. Ask if you get to keep the pizza box. When they say yes, heave a sigh of relief.
8. Tell them to double check to make sure your pizza is, in fact, dead.
9. Psychoanalyze the order taker.
10. Order two toppings, then say, "No, they'll start fighting".
11. Call to complain about service. Later, call back to say you were drunk and didn't mean it.
12. Haggle.
13. Ask if the pizza is organically grown.
14. Order a one-inch pizza.
15. Ask them if they are familiar with the term "spanking a pizza." Demand that this be done to your pizza.
16. Put them on hold.
17. Teach the order taker a secret code. Use the code on all subsequent orders.
18. Tell the order taker to tell the manager to tell his supervisor he's fired.
19. State your order and say that's as far as this relationship is going to get.
20. When they say "Will that be all?", snicker and say "We'll find out, won't we?"
21. Ask how many dolphins were killed to make that pizza.
22. Avoid saying the word "pizza" at all costs. If he/she says it, whisper "Please don't mention that word".
23. If he/she suggests a side order, ask why he/she is punishing you.
24. Order a steamed pizza.
25. If any of the above practices are rejected by the order taker say, in your best pouty voice, "The last guy let me do it."

Coconut Telegraph's Artist of the Month - Laura Dreaver

Award-winning restaurateur and wedding caterer extraordinaire Laura Dreaver originally put Key Largo on the map for great food years ago, and she has done it again recently for her signature, stress-free, breathtaking island weddings! Laura and her husband Ted own and operate the Key Largo Conch House Restaurant at 100211 Overseas Highway that has been featured on the Food Network, Travel Channel and the Discovery Channel. Their menu is a bit different from the normal local fare, as they are not afraid to innovate. The Conch House was among the first in town to introduce the invasive lion fish as a delicacy on the menu. The Key Largo Conch House is a locals' favorite because everything is always fresh and delicious. Here are some reviews on Laura's Weddings...

"Laura and her family made our wedding brunch spectacular. Planning from 1800 miles away was a piece of cake, they are all so friendly and easy to work with. As for the food, it was most outstanding, it was hard to pick a favorite item as it was all delicious, but the mahi sliders rate pretty high in my book. I would surely send anyone of my friends to them for all their catering needs, or to just stop by the restaurant for a bite to eat."

"I could not be any happier we chose Key Largo Conch House for our caterer!! Laura and her team were nothing short of amazing! They came and checked out the area beforehand to get an idea of what setup we wanted so the wedding day was less stressful. Laura was always quick to respond and willing to help in whatever way she could. On top of that, the food was delicious. All of our guests were raving about it. Especially the cake. I couldn't think of one negative thing to say. They all helped to make our day perfect!"

"We want to send a big "Thank You" to everyone at The Key Largo Conch House. They are not just caterers, they are truly your own personal wedding planners and through this process have become friends. Laura, Justin and their staff treated our wedding as if we were their own family. They offer every service needed for a wedding, which makes it stress free, having only one vendor. From the gorgeous wedding to the beautiful brunch the next day, they were there to take care of any worry a bride and groom could have."
