Suggested Coral Shores Homework Excuses - by Eric Beattie
Our boat sank.
Dad used it for rolling paper.
It blew off Poppi's fly bridge whole we were molesting lobster traps.
Mom recycled it.
Dog ate my homework and then a croc ate my dog.
Ran out of toilet paper.
My uncle wrapped his bait in it.
I sold the doodle on the back of it.
I have a solar powered calculator and it was cloudy.
The exterminator tented the house before I could get it out.
I had to bail mom out of jail again.
My mother took it to have it framed.

Your Special Gift Sharing Your Genius

We have a genius within us and when one of us doesn't develop our special gift, a cosmic void takes place.

Each of us is born with a specific genius that was bestowed upon us so we can do our part to make this world a better place. All of us have a role that we're uniquely suited for. Imagine our planet without trees, oceans, or clouds. In this same way, when one of us doesn't develop or use our special gift, a cosmic void takes place.

This unique talent or ability may be hidden from your own sight like a golden treasure buried under shifting sands. Often, we spend so much time dazzled by the talents of others that we can overlook our own gifts. It may even be that our unique ability is something we view negatively. Perhaps we find it difficult concentrating on any one subject for long; meanwhile, others are thrilled by our ability to weave various ideas throughout our conversations. You might think of yourself as "frivolous," when it's likely your charming approach to life casts a light of inspiration that others can't help but follow. It's important for all of us to try to find our special gift and discover how we can best express it. Ask others to name what they think is your most overlooked talent or character trait. Their answers may change your life.

Explore these riches that are yours to express, and you may find yourself helping others discover and develop their own blessings. Acknowledge and appreciate the gifts you see in those around you. Tell your neighbor that loves to garden how much her green thumb enlivens the whole block.

Thank your coworker for always greeting your days together with a smile. Tell your close friends that their ability to listen makes your world a better place. Our unique gifts are like golden rays of expression that can encircle the world with light.
