

“When you go out and see the empty streets, the empty stadiums, the empty train platforms, don’t say to yourself, “It looks like the end of the world.” What you’re seeing is love in action. What you’re seeing, in that negative space, is how much we do care for each other, for our grandparents, for our immune-compromised brothers and sisters, for people we will never meet. People will lose jobs over this. Some will lose their businesses. And some will lose their lives. All the more reason to take a moment, when you’re out on your walk, or on your way to the store, or just watching the news, to look into the emptiness and marvel at all of that love. Let it fill you and sustain you. It Isn’t the end of the world. It is the most remarkable act of global solidarity we may ever witness.

While we are in lockdown, we should all call random numbers in India and ask about their car's extended warranty.

Really sucks that coronavirus hit during allergy season. I'm over here like I can't tell if I have 5 days to live or if I need to take a Claritin.

I would take a trailer hitch to the shin for all this to be over.
