Estate Planning

Dave was a single guy, living at home with his father and working in the family business. He knew that he would inherit a fortune once his sickly father died.

- Dave wanted two things:
- to learn how to invest his inheritance and,
 - to find a wife to share his fortune.

One evening at an investment meeting, he spotted the most beautiful woman he had ever seen. Her natural beauty took his breath away.

“I may look like just an ordinary man,” he said to her, “but in just a few years, my father will die, and I’ll inherit 20 million dollars.”

Impressed, the woman obtained his business card.

Two weeks later, she became his stepmother.

My mate got bit by a snake so I told him an amusing story. If I knew the difference between anecdote and antidote he would still be alive today.

I only drink a little, but when I do, I turn into another person, and that person drinks a lot.

Be good to your spouse. Remember, right now they could poison you and it would be counted as a covid death.

Bought a crystal ball the other day and all it was predicting was bad weather. Turns out they sold me a snow globe.

With a very seductive voice a wife asked her husband “Have you ever seen twenty dollars all crumpled up?”

“No” said her husband.

She gave him a sexy little smile, unbuttoned the top three buttons of her blouse and slowly reached down in her cleavage created by a soft, silky push-up bra and pulled out a crumpled twenty dollar Bill. He took the crumpled twenty from her and smiled approvingly.

She then asked “Have you ever seen fifty dollars all crumpled up?”

“No I haven’t” he said with an anxious tone in his voice.

She gave him another sexy little smile pulled up her skirt, seductively reached into her tight, sheer panties and pulled out a crumpled fifty dollar bill. He took the crumpled fifty and started breathing a little quicker with anticipation.

“Now” she said “Have you ever seen 50,000 dollars all crumpled up?”

“No way” he said, becoming even more aroused and excited to which she replied: “Go look in the garage.”

SQUATS? I THOUGHT YOU SAID LET’S DO SHOTS!

I AM FOREVER DISAPPOINTED THAT CHEF BOBBY FLAY DIDN'T NAME HIS DAUGHTER SUE.

In most of the United States there is a policy of checking on any stalled vehicle on the highway when temperatures drop to single digits or below. About 3 AM one very cold morning, Montana State Trooper Allan Nixon #658 responded to a call; there was a car off the shoulder of the road outside Great Falls, Montana. He located the car, stuck in deep snow, with the engine still running.

Pulling in behind the car with his emergency lights on, the trooper walked to the driver’s door to find an older man passed out behind the wheel with a nearly empty vodka bottle on the seat beside him. The driver came awake when the trooper tapped on the window. Seeing the rotating lights in his rearview mirror, and the state trooper standing next to his car, the man panicked. He jerked the gearshift into ‘drive’ and hit the gas.

The car’s speedometer was showing 20-30-40 and then 50 MPH, but it was still stuck in the snow, wheels spinning. Trooper Nixon, having a sense of humor, began running in place next to the speeding (but stationary) car. The driver was totally freaked, thinking the trooper was actually keeping up with him. This goes on for about 30 seconds, then the trooper yelled. “PULL OVER!”

The man nodded, turned his wheel and stopped the 1 engine. Needless to say, the man from North Dakota was arrested and is probably still shaking his head over the state trooper in Montana who could run 50 miles per hour.

Who says troopers don’t have a sense of humor?

I DECIDED I’LL NEVER GET DOWN TO MY ORIGINAL WEIGHT.

I’M OKAY WITH THAT.

AFTER ALL, 6 LBS, 2 OZ. IS JUST NOT REALISTIC

Being twenty in the seventies was much more fun than being seventy in the twenties.

I have a pal from the old days on Facebook screaming about "I am not taking a vaccine, you don't know what's in it!"

This is the same guy who used to buy ecstasy pills off a one-eyed guy called Grungy Gary.

A man in northern Minnesota woke up one morning to find a bear on his roof. He looked in the Yellow Pages, and sure enough, there was an ad for “Up North Bear Removers.” He called the number listed and the bear remover said he’d be over within an hour.

The bear remover arrived, and got out of his van. He had a ladder, a baseball bat, a 12 gauge shotgun, and a mean looking, heavily scarred old pit bull.

“What are you going to do.?” the homeowner asked.

“I’m going to put this ladder up against the roof, then I’m going to go up there, and knock the bear off the roof with this baseball bat. When the bear falls off the roof, the pit bull is trained to grab his testicles, and not let go. The bear will then be subdued enough for me to put him in the cage in the back of the van.

He then handed the shotgun to the homeowner. “What’s the shotgun for?” the homeowner asked.

“If the bear knocks me off the roof, you shoot the dog.”

What’s the difference between a cat and a comma?

One is a pause at the end of a clause, and the other has claws at the end of its paws.

I thought I was losing weight, but it turned out my sweatpants had come untied.
